We dedicate the 1943 CHIEFTAIN to the students, alumni, and faculty of WEST GEORGIA COLLEGE who have entered the service of their country.

THE CAMPUS

ADMINISTRATION

On the shoulders of our president and of our deans has fallen the burden of adjusting the operation of the college to the emergency situation created by the war. They have been quick to see and understand the necessity for changing the curriculum to meet the urgent demands of the government for physically fit students trained in mathematics and in other subjects vitally related to the war effort. They have been largely responsible for effecting the economies necessary to steer the school through these uncertain and troubled times. Their task has not been an easy one, yet they have courageously carried on their efforts to make the institution a center of learning that will be invaluable to the people it serves in the immediate future and after the war. To these, our leaders, we express our sincere appreciation.

NYA RESIDENT PROJECT

Barracks and Project Entrance

The National Youth Administration Resident Project is operated in connection with the college. The Project is now exclusively concerned with training youth for vital war work such as welding, forge, sheet metal work, and machine shop work. After three months training the youth are prepared to get jobs in defense plants. The Project is under the direction of W. Parker Beddingfield. Among other members of the staff are: Ellen B. Roberts, Project Youth Personnel Officer; T. O. Delay, Project Finance Officer; Dorothy Doster, Girls' Work Foreman General; Mary R. Towler, Girls' Work Foreman in Sewing; Leona M. Ridley, Assistant Girls' Work Foreman in Sewing; Homer Lee Neely, J. Donald Sheffield, Ernest Smith, Machine Shop Foremen; Thomas L. Boyd, James M. King, Robert B. King, R. S. McWilliams, Welding Foremen; Virginia L. Greenway, Resident Nurse; John W. Fountain, Project Operations Officer; Frank C. Herrell, Sheet Metal Foreman; J. B. Stallings, Maintenance Foreman; Frances C. Balksom, Forrest Champion, Jr., E. Paul Hodges, Frank H. Murray, Youth Personnel Representatives; Marie C. Grice, Project Secretary; Mary F. Stephens, Myrtle Hogan, Hazel Redding, Secretaries.

SOPHOMORES

Some of the members of our class after completing their freshman year immediately became sophomores and worked on through the summer. The majority of the class joined them again in September. It was a great reunion, but we missed many of our former classmates who didn't return to us. Then we had to become accustomed to being upperclassmen—sophomores— instead of "lowly" freshmen. Naturally we had to help the freshmen become part of our school, so we supervised their initiation.

Realizing that during this critical period in history we had a task to do, we became more serious minded than ever. Many of our boys left to serve in the armed forces; other members of our class graduated at the end of the spring quarter and went on to other institutions of higher learning, and some started third year work. The rest of us carried on.

During these two years together we've had our ups and downs, but it's been fun. Upon graduation we will separate, never to meet as one group again. Some of us will immediately enter our life's work; others will serve their country in this crisis; a few will continue their education. In short, this is our beginning.

To you freshmen, the future sophomores, we leave our place on the campus—and wish you luck.

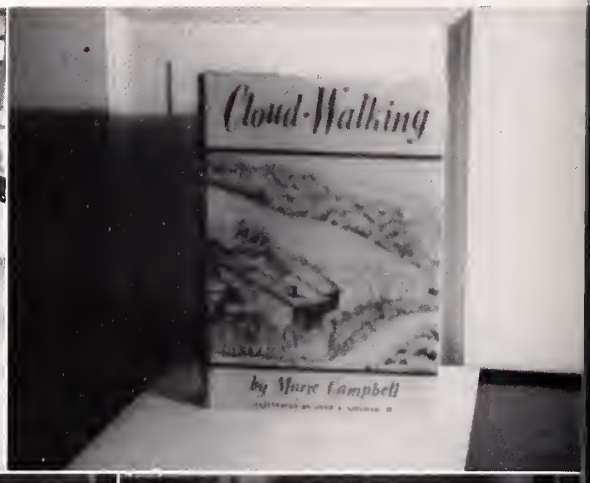
FACULTY AND FRIENDS

COMMUNICATIONS CENTER

The Communications Center is a new addition to the campus this year. Since its completion in the fall it has become a place where students come to learn and practice such activities as screen printing, lettering, photography, mimeographing, drawing, voice recording, and other modes of expression equally interesting. Under the capable guidance of Dr. George Smith the center has become a live spot where students eagerly congregate to develop natural talent and self-expression.

OFF THE



EDITOR'S DESK

College—at last—after all those years of anticipation!! But alas! we feel a lump in our throats despite the joy, that is in store for us—you see—we've just bid farewell to parents and family for the first time and now that we are here we don't feel any too confident. We are bewildered among all these strangers. Then, just in the nick of time the Sophomores arrive. If we had ever dreamed of being isolationists we are now awakened to the fact that the sophomores simply won't allow it. The rat Parade—the freshman creed—polishing shoes—a square meal—Study —The Freshman dance. Before we knew it we are full-fledged members of the freshman class and the student body of West Georgia College. How time has flown —it seems that we have been here only a few days and now we are ready to be the next sophomore class.

PICKING COTTON FOR VICTORY

CAMPUS LIFE

THE THIRD YEAR

The third year students have organized as a work staff and have spent many hours a week in communities and schools, actually learning by doing. They realize that peddling turnips, cutting down trees, scraping radiators, painting ceilings, meeting people, and planning have as much art attached to the process as painting a picture.

Each member of the class has experienced a new life and discovered that democracy can reign in education and living. The entire group has had experience of class officership.

These future teachers will have much to offer to the development of education as they continue their careers.

The Women's Athletic Association is an organization which has as its purpose to foster and promote interest in athletic activities, to develop good sportsmanship, and to develop some degree of skill and increase the enjoyment of athletics for women at West Georgia College. Every woman on the campus automatically becomes a member. Recognition is on a point system. Those earning the required number of points are entitled to wear the pin, and those earning a prescribed greater number are awarded letters. All awards must be passed on by the officers.

''W'' CLUB

The "W" Club is composed of those who have won letters in one or more sports. This year letters were awarded for excellence in intramural sports. The club has always stood for the highest ideals in sportsmanship and fair play at West Georgia College.

The West Georgian was first published in 1933. On four occasions the paper received First Class honor rating awarded by the Associated Collegiate Press. This rating places the West Georgian in the top ranks of the best junior college newspapers in the south.

The staff publishes a paper that is devoted to the best interests of the college and students. The contents of the paper consist of entertaining features, editorials and important news. The West Georgian is expressive of the life and enthusiasm that pervade the campus.

This book, the 1943 Chieftain, typifies life at West Georgia College. The staff presents it to you as a reminder of pleasant memories of this school year. We spent many hours collecting information, changing page after page of our original plan, walking the streets selling ads, and considering the most effective way to organize our material. But now that it's finished, we have forgotten all our trying and uneasy moments and look back only to those times of satisfaction when we felt that we were accomplishing our goal—this annual. We must add our thanks to you, the students and faculty, who have contributed so much to the success of our book. We now pass our work on to you to judge.

MEN'S ATHLETICS

Athletics during the current school year have been dedicated to building a stronger America for the present and future. Although the athletic program has been entirely intramural, in contrast to the rambling teams of the past, the transportation problem did not keep Coach Carpenter from organizing several basketball, volleyball, and softball teams. New members received in the W-Club were selected from the team winning the final tournament in each sport, and each new member received an intramural letter.

During the winter quarter the students were required to meet Victory Corps classes four hours a week. The Victory Corps program consisted of an obstacle race made up of hurdles, vertical wall, rope climbing, parallel bars, maze run, balance-beam, crouch crawl, fence-vaulting, mat work, walking, and running. Directed calisthenics and sports, usually touch football and basketball occupied the remainder of the period.

Upper Left, basketball varsity (standing): D. C. Paris, E. Casey, T. Johnston, M. Anderson. . . .
(Kneeling): J. E. Edmondson, E. Davis, F. Watkins, R. Dunwoody

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

As more emphasis is being placed on physical fitness, the athletic program has been planned to include every girl on the campus. Teams chosen from the physical education classes competed in intramural tournaments from which freshmen and sophomore teams and finally varsity teams were selected. Among the sports participated in were: volleyball, soccer, basketball, softball, and tennis.

A number of the varsity teams are presented in the pictures below:
